

Pending district and association collective bargaining agreement, the district is in the process of negotiating a return to in-person instruction to begin no later than Monday, April 5. The schedule is a “hybrid” model which allows for smaller cohort sizes, social distancing, and appropriate safety measures within a school day. The hybrid schedule supports in-person, direct instruction with a teacher in a morning session or an afternoon session, five (5) days a week, Monday through Friday.

Group A students would attend school in-person for up to 2.5 hours in the morning and learn at home through asynchronous instruction/assignments for up to 2.5 hours in the afternoon. Group B students would learn at home through asynchronous instruction/assignments for up to 2.5 hours in the morning and attend school in-person for up to 2.5 hours in the afternoon. The proposed schedules are below.
